

Claim Monitoring

Automate claim status and focus on interventions that yield

One of the most challenging aspects of claims management is getting visibility into the status of claims at the payer. Staff time and resources can be tied up each day attempting to monitor claims that do not yet have a remit, and very often these efforts do not yield actionable results. And because there is little time to spare, only the highest priority claims receive attention leaving revenue on the table due to a lack of follow-up. Waystar Claim Monitoring automatically provides early insight into the status of your claims as soon as the claim has been accepted into the payer's adjudication system.
